

PRIVACY STATEMENT

As you browse through our website , please know that Houston Early Music does not automatically collect personal information such as your name or e-mail address – nor do we use “cookies” to track how our visitors use this site, or to determine sites previously visited. Our website is monitored, for statistical purposes only, by a tracking service – and the information generated by this service is available to all here.

Houston Early Music has privacy policies in place. Therefore, should you correspond voluntarily with us by electronic mail or any other medium, the personal information that we hold, create and collect from you is used only for administrative, promotional, and statistical purposes. The information included in such correspondence may be used by us to send you e-mail based or printed information about Houston Early Music and its activities.

Please be aware that the mailing address information in our database list is shared occasionally with other related arts organizations , but only for publicity and promotional mailing purposes. You have the option to inform us that you do not want your name and address included when we make our list available to others: please e-mail us or contact our office and we will make sure that your information will be suppressed and not be passed on to other organizations .

If you have any questions, concerns or comments regarding this policy, you may contact us by info@houstonearlymusic.org , by calling us at (713) 325 5377 X 1077 or by regular mail to the office of Houston Early Music 3400 Main Street Houston TX 77002 .

CREDIT CARD INFORMATION & SECURE INTERNET TRANSACTIONS

Credit Card information will not be stored in our database, and will under no circumstances be passed on to others.